

Pattie Is A Tel Aviv based - Psychedelic Rock Band

In Pattie, the four friends found the ideal ground for musical adventures as they explore the boundaries of their instruments; recrafting the old into the new, while leaning on the foundations of 1970's psychedelia.

After releasing their debut album "Your Better Half" under the name "Pattie Boyds" - the band experienced a creative transformation that led to the welcoming of new band members, new sounds, and a new name to symbolize it.

After dozens of cross country performances (including their self produced festival "TZEVA", which combined live art and music), the band released a second album this December-

Cotton Candy, Rusty Nails

A colorful collage of anthemic riffs, scorching synthesizers, dreamy guitars and existential reflections, wrapped in Pattie's signature live wall of sound.

Released singles- "Hey", "Cinnamon Bun" praising reviews from the media and broad radio time.

"The band gorgeously creates some lovely dream-pop and psych-laden melodies with equally pretty vocals that compliment the production to perfection."

We All Want Something To Shout For

"Pond meets Tame Impala and merges into a crazy electronic psychedelic celebration, it's a straight flight to Kevin Parker or Nick Olbrook's imaginary districts ..."

Columbus Magazine.

Pattie's live performance is a dynamic colorful story, told through constant movement and altering of instruments, kaleidoscopic instrumental parts, and floating vocals that enable a deep dive into a great ocean.

Website Facebook Youtube Bandcamp Soundcloud Spotify Instagram